LOUIS F. ABERCROMBIE.

American Expeditionary Force, France.

June 19, 1918.

To the Officers and Members, Recovery Lodge No. 31, A. F. M., Greenville, S. C.

Brothers:—

It becomes my sad duty to inform you of the death in action of one of the members of your Lodge, Brother Louis F. Abercrombie, a member of the 5th regiment, U. S. Marines, who was killed in action against the enemy on June 16, 1918.

Corporal Abercrombie had been in the battle for 15 days when killed and had proven himself an excellent man under fire and died as he was "raised", facing the "East".

I was personally acquainted with Abercrombie for over a year and knew him to be an excellent soldier and a clean-living man, and we can all rest assured that when he is placed on the right hand of the Grand Master of the Universe he will there stand as I know him to have lived, a just and upright man and Mason.

Will you please convey to the relatives of Abercrombie my most tender sympathy and assure them that our departed brother lived and died a gallant soldier and a source of pride to his country, family and to every true Mason. His grave is in the midst of many of our boys who fell on the same day and on the site where the Hun was given a sample of what real Americans can and will continue to do. You no doubt will read of the part our Marines took in checking a most determined attack by the Huns, and may be able to realize what a glorious death Abercrombie met.

With sincere sympathy for the Lodge in the loss of one of its members, I remain,

Sincerely and fraternally,

(Signed) Chas. P. Holliday,
Captain, 5th Regiment,
U. S. Marines, A. E. F.

To the Officers and Members,

Recovery Lodge No. 31, A. F. M.

Dear Brethren:—

We, the committee appointed to draft resolutions in memory of our deceased brother, Louis F. Abercrombie, beg leave to submit the following:

Through the courtesy of Brother Chas. P. Holliday, Captain of the Fifth Regiment, U. S. Marines, American Expeditionary Force, we are informed that Brother Abercrombie, a member of that regiment, was killed in action on the battlefield of France, June 16, 1918.

We are grieved at the receipt of this sad intelligence. It fell to the lot of the chairman of your committee to impart to Brother Abercrombie some of the principles and teachings of Masonry. From the report given by Brother Holliday, we are convinced that these teachings were ever kept sacred and inviolate by our brother, even to the day of his death.

We are informed that Brother Abercrombie died as he was "raised"—facing the "East". We are glad to note that in this instance he was facing the enemy, thereby proving himself a soldier unafraid, of whom his country need not be ashamed.

Captain Holliday further informs us that during the time he had known Brother Abercrombie, he had always found him to be a clean-living young man. We are not surprised at this. It is only what we would have expected of him. Evidently, he had continued to live the virtuous and upright life so characteristic of him while here among us. The temptations incident to army life to which many young men fall a prey had made no impression upon his character.

We may not know the exact location of his death, nor the spot where rests his earthly remains; but this we do know, that from "Somewhere in France" a brave spirit has ascended into the God of Battles, to receive the reward of a true soldier and Mason.

Respectfully submitted,
W. D. Harris,
Chas. P. Mackey,
Committee.
